

I am a subscriber of satellite XM radio and the service that I pay for is great and it is insane for the NAB to try and stop this service of local instant traffic and weather information. If we the consumer would rather pay for this service than only get it on public radio after commercials and their normal programming, then we have a right to do so. I can't always get this information while traveling and rely on it greatly and for entertainment. It would not be right to stop this service.
